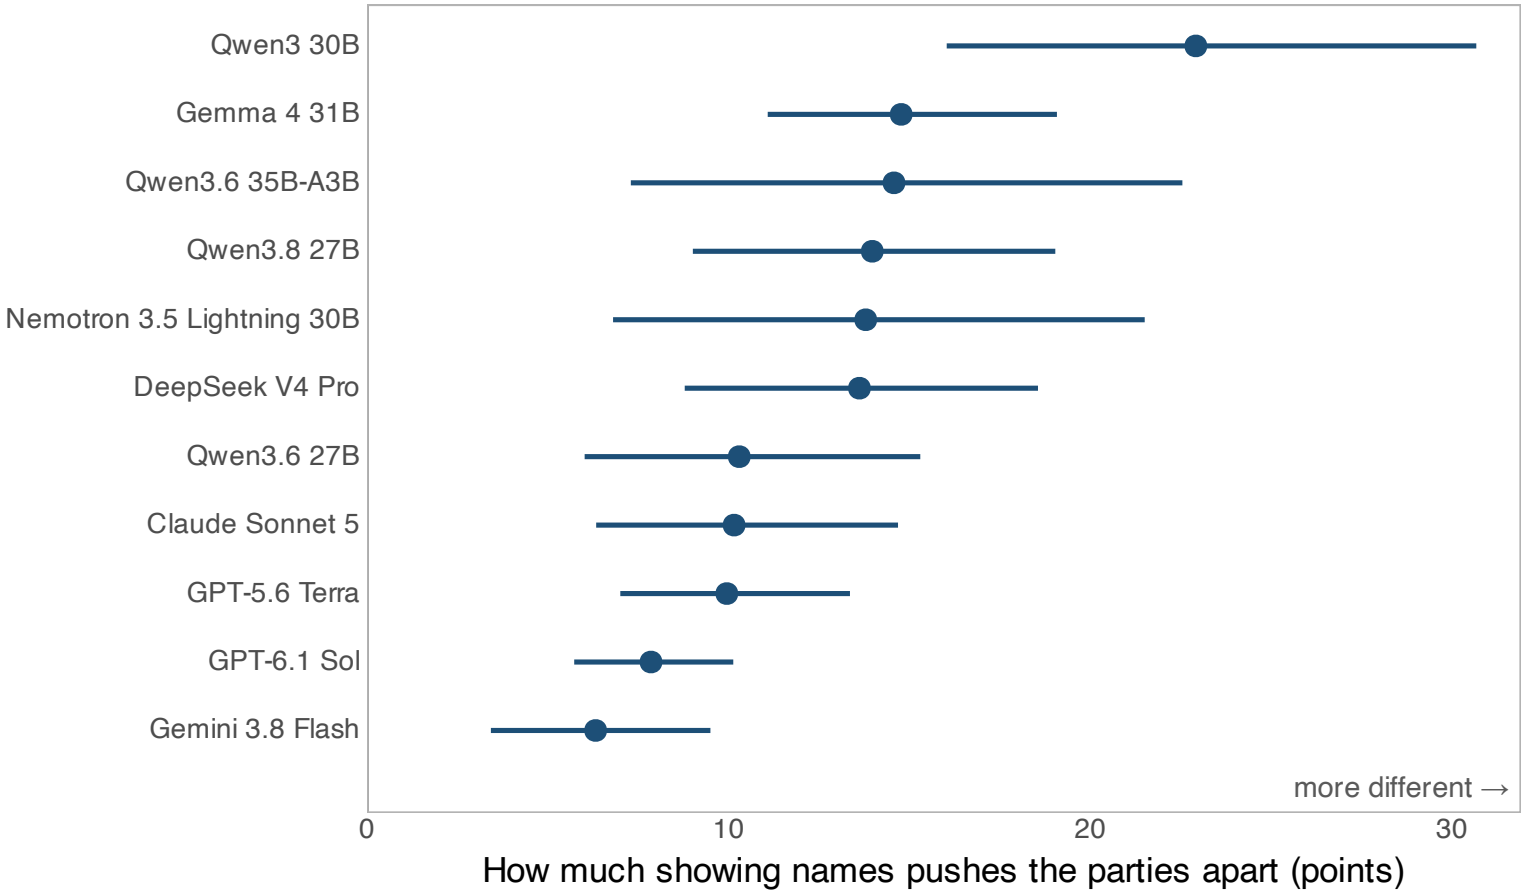
What happens if we hide or show names in political statements?



144 tweets that name a party or politician, rated as written and with the names masked. 0-100 left-right scale. 95% intervals.